

draw against Kasparov, but here is an even more striking example:

A. Morozevich (2748) - M. Gurevich (2694)

1.e4 d6 2.d4 Nf6 3.Nc3 g6 4.Be3 c6 5.h3 Nbd7 6.Nf3 Qc7 7.a4 Bg7 8.Be2 0-0 9.Nd2 b6 10.g4 Bb7 11.g5

Here Black has only one reasonable move - 11...Ne8. However, after some thinking Black played 11...Nxe4?? If that game was played on the Internet, such a suicidal move would be certainly explained as a 'mouse slip'. But in a 'traditional' game nobody has any explanation, not even Gurevich himself. Black dully lost after 12.Ndx4 d5 13.Ng3 e5 14.0-0 exd4 15.Bxd4 Qf4 16.Bxg7 Kxg7 17.Bg4 f5 18.gxf6+ Nxf6 19.Nce2 Qd6 20.Bf3 Rae8 21.c4 Qd7 22.cxd5 Qxh3 23.Nf4 Qh4 24.Ne6+ Rxe6 25.dxe6 c5 26.e7 Re8 27.Re1 1-0

It was the first time Etienn Bacrot got into such a tough company. His coach Alexander Nikitin (former trainer of Kasparov) explained that Etienn simply was not used to play some many hard games in a row. Without doubt it was a very valuable experience for the talented French junior.

Finally, I would like to mention that despite regular TV coverage, the tournament broke no ice with spectators. There were usually between 15 and 30 people watching the event, many of whom were chess professionals (seconds, etc.) anyway. There were more people playing and watching chess in the nearby park. Of course, chess is moving to the Net and the coverage of the event there was indeed fine. Still, it is a pity that such a great chess event does not attract spectators even in one of the former Yugoslav Republics, where chess is traditionally popular. I believe that time has come when chess professionals must think on how to make chess more attractive to spectators and therefore to sponsors. Otherwise chess as a professional sport might die soon. And that will affect not only a few hundreds of chess professionals, but also those thousands of chess fans world-wide, who can now enjoy high quality games - like games from the Sarajevo tournament.
